

This transcript was exported on Jul 09, 2021 - view latest version here.

Olivia Cooper Baird:

My client probably loves that son or daughter, but they are actually exploiting them.

Olivia Cooper Baird:

My name is Olivia Cooper Baird. I am a professional guardian and I am also a licensed clinical social worker. I was guardianship for a particular individual. Her son has changed some powers of attorney and put some things in his name and had done that illegally, so I had to hire Shannon Miller as the attorney to get those things back through the court because he was not going to do that willingly. I think she's an absolutely great attorney and I think she has a great team. All of them, very cordial. They seem to know what they're doing and actually what needs to be done.

Olivia Cooper Baird:

Shannon has a very methodical way of handling things and asking questions and just moving on to the next problem that we may have. I thought it was excellent. The actual ruling had been exactly what we wanted and what we asked for in the beginning. Everything was reversed back to where my client actually has her property back.

Olivia Cooper Baird:

The cases that I've had with Shannon, we've always gotten the results that I wanted in order to better accommodate the ward or the client. Working with Shannon has been good for me as a guardian.