

Sandi Robertson:

I've been in the legal field for 40 years. I've known Shannon for probably 25 years. And when it came time for me to make a change in my career, she had a position open. I didn't have the experience with guardianships and probate, but I did have experience with litigation, and that's what I do primarily. When you're successful and you're able to give the people back their money or their home. Unfortunately, a lot of times the elderly person isn't competent and they don't know what's going on, you're doing it through a family member. But it's still rewarding to know that we've taken the property back.
